Note: For some answers, there is more than one possible answer. In those instances, I will write two answers for the same question.

Nota: Para algunas respuestas, hay más de una respuesta posible. En esos casos, escribiré dos respuestas para la misma pregunta.

John is at/in school, studying to become a doctor. He wants to work at/in a hospital. School is expensive. John is working two jobs while his is in school. His first job is at/in a restaurant. He works as a waiter at Jack’s Deli. The restaurant is on Main Street. He waits tables. It does not pay very well, but he gets good tips. His friend works in the kitchen, washing dishes. His friend wants to be a cook. John’s second job is as a dog walker. People call John at his home. John picks up the dogs. He walks them at/in the park. John also works at/in the clinic on University Drive. That job does not pay any money. He volunteers. He is getting experience so he can be a doctor. John is very busy. When he is not at work, he is at school. And when he is not at school, he is at work. John is happy, though. He is working for his dream.
