

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Denton County Winter Storm Advisory

Wednesday, February 23, 2022 – Denton County is under a Winter Storm Advisory from 6am Wednesday to 6pm Thursday. The forecast for winter weather is set to occur as two, separate rounds. The first will be this morning from 6am to 12pm. Minor accumulation may occur. The second round will occur Wednesday night through Thursday midday. This will be the stronger round, with ice accumulation up to 2 tenths of an inch and sleet accumulation from one tenth to one third of an inch.

Main Threats:

- Ice accumulation on bridges and elevated surfaces
- Ice accumulation on power lines and infrastructure
- Possible impacts to roadways
- Cold wind chills (11 degrees at 3pm Wednesday)

Post Time: 9:00 AM Wednesday, February 23, 2022

###

www.lakedallas.com